

West Lothian Drug & Alcohol Service

Complaints' Policy & Procedure

1. Introduction

1.1 This Complaints' Procedure covers all aspects of the services we provide within West Lothian Drug and Alcohol Service (WLDAS). It is open to all clients, their representatives, referring agencies, partner organisations and anyone who is involved in our education or training work.

1.2 WLDAS is committed to providing high quality services. We are committed to ensuring that people who use our service get the opportunity to feed back to us on how we have done and how we can improve and recognise that having an accessible and robust complaints policy and procedure is an important element of this.

1.3 WLDAS sees service users as a key element in this and, as a result, set up a Service Users Advisory Group (SUAG) at the start of 2013. WLDAS believes that service user involvement should be more than consultation. It should empower service users to take a central role in designing, developing, delivering and evaluating the services provided.

1.4 This Policy is accessible to read on our website and can be requested in other formats and languages, where necessary. Please contact us using the details at the end of this policy.

1.5 Organisations that can provide independent support and advocacy for people wishing to make a complaint are listed at the end of this policy .

1.6 What follows is an explanation of the Service's Complaints' Policy and Procedure and outlines:-

- the principles of WLDAS' complaints procedure
- what is a complaint;
- how to complain;
- what will happen once a complaint is made.

1.7 The aim of the Complaints' Procedure is to ensure that:

- anyone wanting to make a complaint knows how to go about it;
- we will respond promptly and in a courteous way;
- users of our services are satisfied that we have considered their complaint seriously;
- we learn from any complaints made and make changes to improve our services.

2. Principles of our Complaints' Procedure

2.1 WLDAS recognises that complaints are an important part of client feedback and can help improve services.

2.2 WLDAS encourages anyone wishing to make a complaint to do so promptly. This will ensure that any problems are addressed as soon as possible. The time limit for making a complaint is 3 years, however out-of-time complaints will be considered on a case by case basis.

2.3 We will consider anonymous complaints if there is enough information in the complaint to enable us to make further enquiries. If, however, an anonymous complaint does not provide enough information to enable us to take further action, we may decide not to pursue it further. Any decision not to pursue an anonymous complaint must be authorised by the General Manager or Chair of the Board.

2.4 We will consider complaints from third parties who have themselves been directly and adversely affected by the service (third parties are those who have not personally received services related to counselling). As part of the complaint, the onus is on third parties to evidence the direct and adverse effect on them. In order for WLDAS to be able to handle the complaint we may need to seek consent for the client currently receiving support from our service. Consent will only be sought if it is necessary to investigate the complaint further.

2.5 All complaints will be investigated fully and fairly.

2.6 Complaints will be dealt with in confidence. The only exceptions to this will be when others could be put at risk by matters referred to in the complaint or the complaint is of a very serious nature.

2.7 If the complainant is not happy with the result of the response to the complaint, he or she will have the right of appeal, within one calendar month of the complaint outcome.

2.8 Clients who use our counselling and support service are made aware of their right to access Counselling & Psychotherapy Scotland (COSCA) Complaints Procedures as WLDAS is a member organisation.

3. What is a Complaint?

3.1 A complaint is an expression of dissatisfaction, either written or spoken. A complaint can be made by an individual or by a group. You may wish to complain if you are not satisfied with:

- the way you have been treated by a member of staff, volunteer or other workers and groups providing services on behalf of WLDAS;
- the service you have received from WLDAS.

3.2 A complaint may arise, for example if anyone using our Service, or who has used our Service, or is thinking of using our Service, believes that we have:

- done something wrong;
- failed to do something we should have done;
- acted unfairly or impolitely.

Please note that any matter which is the subject of legal proceedings, or is expected to be subject to legal proceedings, is excluded from the Complaints' Procedures. In such cases, all matters must be referred directly to the General Manager.

4. How to complain and how will it be dealt with

4.1 Stage 1 Informal:

We would encourage you to raise any concerns or unhappiness you have with the member of WLDAS staff that you work with or contact the General Manager who will do their best to resolve the matter quickly, satisfactorily and in an informal way. If no satisfactory response is received at Stage One then the complaint should move to Stage Two.

4.2 Stage 2 Formal:

Any member of staff can explain the formal complaints' process to any potential complainant or their representative if this is necessary. This policy is also available on our website.

Any comments or complaints which you may have should be directed to the General Manager of WLDAS. This can be done by telephone, e-mail, writing a letter or by arranging an appointment so you can speak to them in person - whatever is more comfortable. It may be that you will want a friend or relative, or someone from a helping organisation (e.g. Citizens Advice or West Lothian's Mental Health Advocacy Service) to assist you in compiling the letter and to advocate on your behalf. The complainant should ensure that they agree with what has been written, sign the document to this effect and obtain a copy for reference. This record will then be passed to the General Manager.

If the complaint is about the General Manager then all communication and correspondence should be directed to the Chairperson of the Board of Management

To help us deal effectively and efficiently with your complaint, you should include your home address and telephone number (if you have one) stating clearly what your complaint is and what you would like done.

On the receipt of your complaint, the General Manager will appoint an independent investigator and will write to you within 7 days of receipt acknowledging your complaint, letting you know who is investigating the complaint and when the investigation will start.

The investigation will be impartial and all parties involved in the complaint and its investigation must declare any conflicts of interest.

Should the investigator require to interview anyone involved in the complaint, evidence will be taken from each party separately and in a manner which means the parties involved will not come in to contact with each other. Anyone interviewed regarding the complaint is entitled to be accompanied by a supportive person of their choice, however this person must be independent of the complaint.

The complainant will receive a response, in writing within 21 days of the start of the investigation. The response will include the following information:

- Details of the investigation;
- A decision on whether the complaint was upheld or not;
- The redress, if appropriate, which will be offered e.g. an apology;
- Any other action that will be taken as a result of the complaint;
- If the investigation has not been completed within 21 days, the reasons why and the expected completion date.

The General Manager or Chair of the Board of management (if the complaint is about the General Manager) may halt the complaint at any stage if it emerges that legal action is under way, pending or intended. The Complaints' Procedure can be halted until any legal process is complete.

The Complaint Manager will be responsible for ensuring that any redress or recommendations/sanctions are applied and fulfilled.

If after the completion of this process you are still dissatisfied, then you can appeal.

On conclusion of the complaint in the area of counselling and support, we will notify COSCA.

4.3 Stage 3 Appeal:

You should write to the Chairperson of our organisation, including copies of any previous records or correspondence, stating your complaint and your reasons for dissatisfaction with Stage 2. If WLDAS has not heard from the complainant within one calendar month of the stage 2 appeal outcome we will consider the case closed.

The Chairperson, upon receiving your appeal letter, will convene a meeting of an Appeals Committee consisting of 3 Board of Management Members, one of whom will Chair the Appeals Procedure. The Appeals Committee will not include any member of the Board of Management who has been directly involved in the circumstances of the complaint. This meeting will be convened within 30 days to which you will be invited to attend with a representative. You will be invited to state your original complaint and explain your reasons for being dissatisfied with Stage 2. The Appeals Committee's decision is final.

On conclusion of the complaint in the area of counselling and support, we will notify COSCA.

5. What Happens if a complaint is upheld

If your complaint is found by us to be justified we will:

- issue you with a full written apology;
- take action, where appropriate, to put right what went wrong. The Complaint Manager will be responsible for ensuring that any redress or recommendations/sanctions are applied and fulfilled;
- try to prevent any similar problems happening in the future;
- on conclusion of WLDAS's complaints procedure, submit a report to COSCA.
